

Maisy's Nature Walk

Ideal for spring story times!
The world of nature comes alive for young listeners during a vibrant, interactive walk with Maisy.

Before your Maisy story hour

Use the printable flyers, posters, and invitations to spread the word about your Maisy story hour. Be sure to write in the date, time, and location before you make copies.

Read the story

While reading, ask the children to point out the items that Maisy is looking for.

Post-reading activity

After reading the story, look back over the illustrations and invite the children to comment on what they notice. Encourage them to talk about their own experiences with nature as well.

Some questions you might ask:

Where do people go on nature walks in your neighborhood?

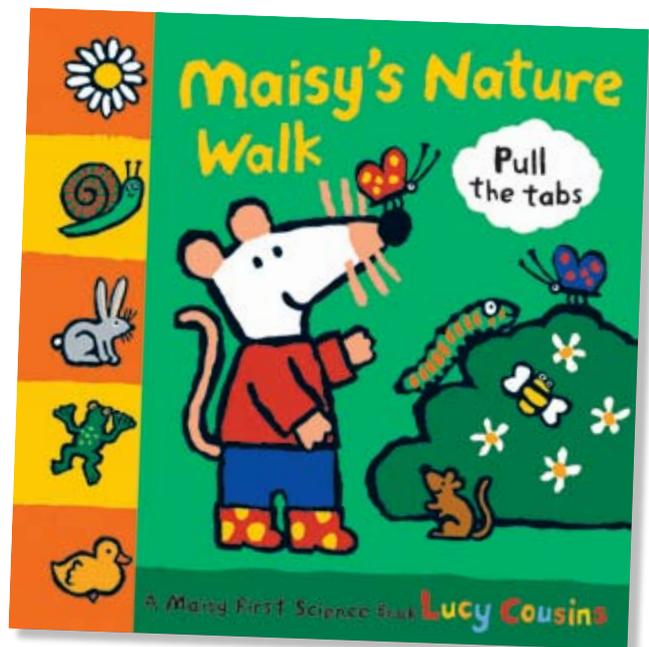

What do people see when they go on nature walks with their family?

What do you like about nature?

Then hand out the following activity sheets for children to complete at the story hour or take home for more Maisy fun later. Be sure to have plenty of crayons and pencils on hand!

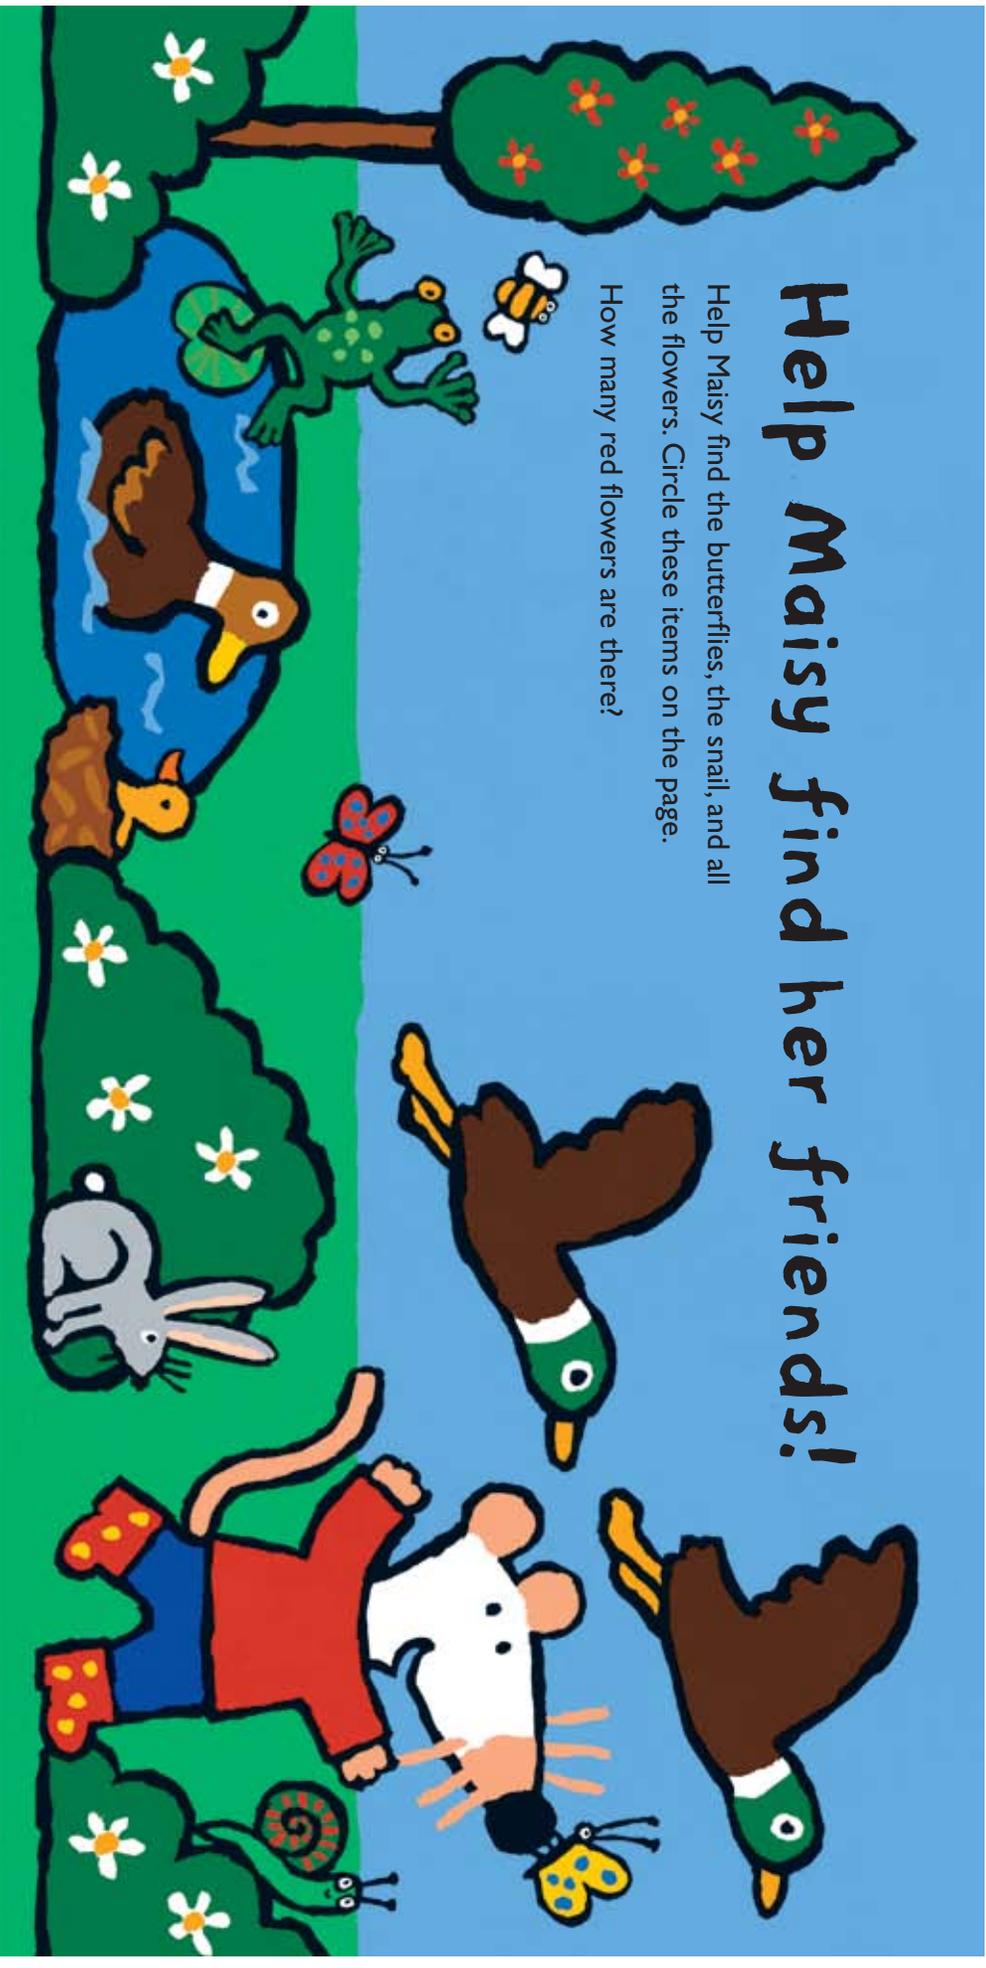

Bonus activity idea

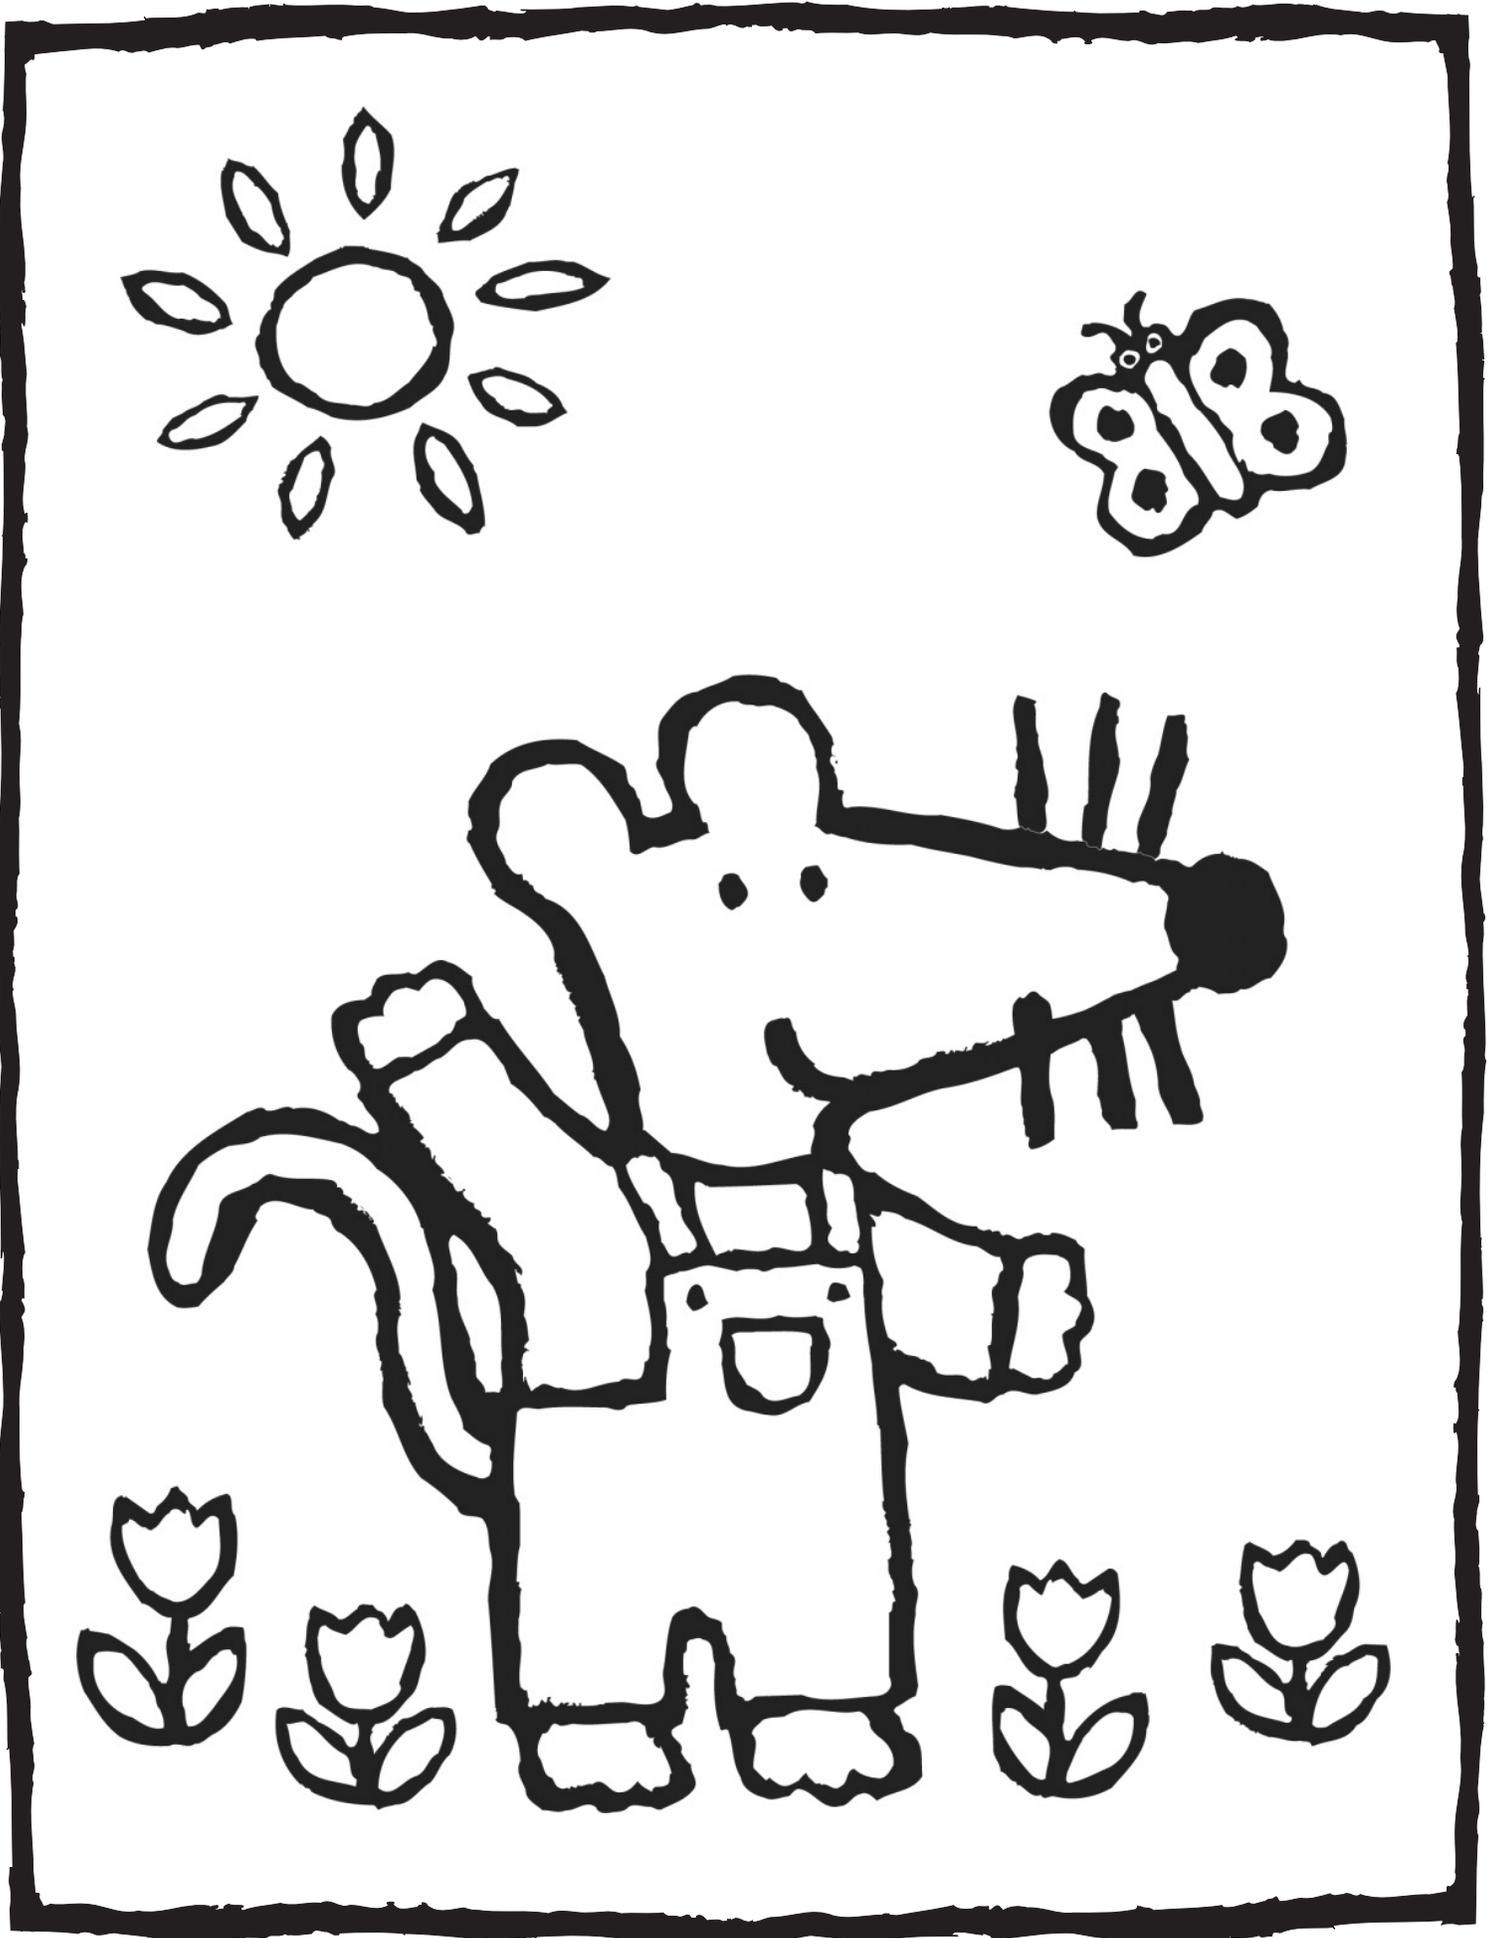

Raffle off a family pass to your local nature preserve!

Help Maisy find her friends!

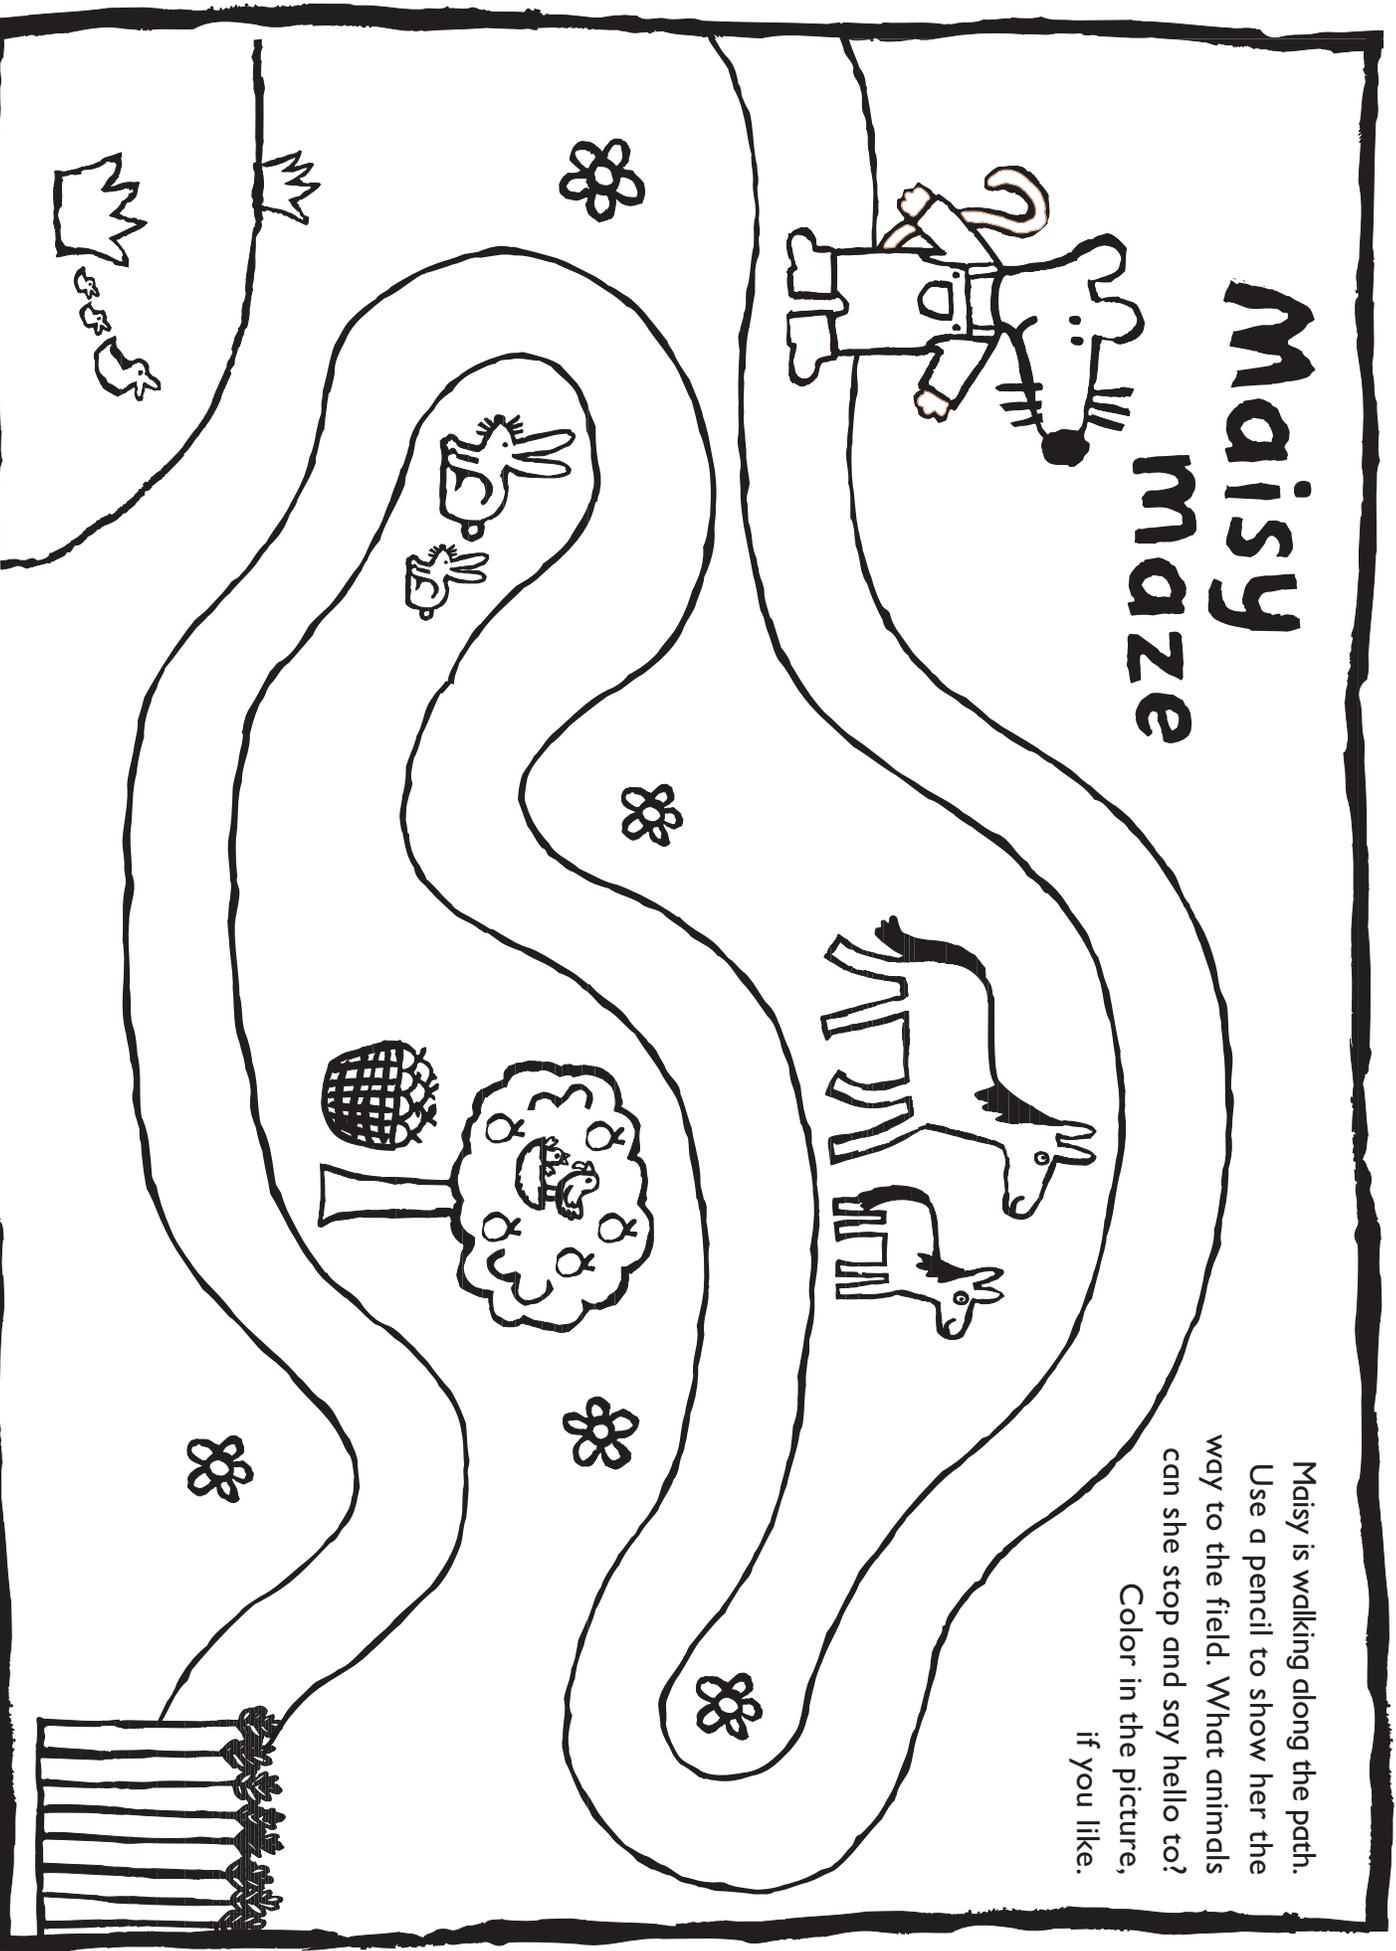

Help Maisy find the butterflies, the snail, and all the flowers. Circle these items on the page.
How many red flowers are there?

Maisy maze

Maisy is walking along the path.
Use a pencil to show her the way to the field. What animals can she stop and say hello to?
Color in the picture,
if you like.
